Housing At Airbase Is Tossed Back

To City Council; Authority Says No Jurisdiction

A proposal by City Councilwoman Fern Hubbard Orme to develop new housing at municipal airbase got nowhere Friday.

Mrs. Orme last Monday tossed the suggestion to the housing authority. She wanted the housing authority to study the possibility of helping individuals to build their own homes on a tract at the base.

The housing authority tossed it back at its meeting Friday. Authority members concluded they have no jurisdiction.

The tract on which Mrs. Orme would have the houses built is on city property—not that of the housing authority.

Not Meet Need. In referring the plan back to the council the housing authority asked that the proposal be more specific.

It is the consensus of authority members that the houses built could, at best, be only for middle-income families. It still could not meet the need of low-income workers.

The only way to meet that need, they contend, is to go through with the proposed low-rent public housing project that the council rejected a month ago.

Aid By Authority. Mrs. Orme had suggested that houses be built on a tract near the Hukerville project.

She would have the housing authority provide technical assistance to persons who want to build in the area, and possibly make other facilities available to builders so as to defray exorbitant building costs.

A second suggestion by Mrs. Orme was that the authority study the feasibility of converting an officers club at the base to a multiple unit housing project.

This the authority agreed to study. It was generally agreed, however, that the best the proposal could do was to be only on a small scale.

'On-To-Chicago' Club Organized By Jaycees

Co-chairmen of the group are Ed Faytinger and Vince Collura.

Governor Told Highway Needs Of Small Towns

Elwood Minus Mail Four Days

The life of Nebraska small towns depends on rapid improvement of state highways, Gov. Val Peterson was told Friday by a delegation of 15 representatives of towns on state highway No. 23.

Elwood, he told the governor has been without mail for four days. Removal of rail mail service, the delegation said, has made the towns completely dependent on highway transportation.

The delegation said that because of the hills on No. 23 gravel washes off the highway making the roads impassable. They urged that No. 23 be hard-surfaced west from Holdrege.

The delegation said that residents of their section were in favor of the improvement program approved by the last legislature. It was pointed out at the meeting that sight is being lost of the need for improved roads due to the smoke screen thrown up regarding how the work is to be financed.

Firemen rescued her from an upper story window, bringing her down a ladder. All other guests were believed safe.

Retired State Pastor, Insurance Executive

Rev. Henry J. Kirschstein, 86, retired Nebraska minister, died in Glendale, Calif., Thursday, according to an associated Press dispatch. He had been an executive for Midwest Life Insurance company in Lincoln for ten years.

Rev. Kirschstein was born aboard ship in the English channel, July 4, 1863. His parents were on their way to America in that year and settled in Joliet, Ill. He later moved to Jasper county, Iowa, where he received his elementary education.

He entered the law school at Drake university in 1883 and became interested in the ministry three years later. He graduated from Drake in 1887 and became pastor of the Christian church in Ulysses, Neb.

In 1889 Rev. Kirschstein became the pastor of the First Christian church in Ashland. He also held pastorates in Hastings and Omaha before coming to Lincoln about 1900.

He received an M.A. degree from the University of Nebraska in 1900 and in 1914 gave up the ministry to work for the Midwestern Life Insurance company. He became superintendent of agents in 1920.

Rev. Kirschstein went to California in 1924 to take charge of a Midwest agency there. He returned to the ministry from 1930 to 1942 in California and was retired since 1942.

Lincoln People Help Pay Rackets Cost, Ludwig Tells Club

The people of Lincoln, as consumers, are the ultimate costs of the nation's big rackets, although there are no rackets here, Frederick J. Ludwig, formerly counsel to the district attorney of New York said at a meeting of the Cosmopolitan club Friday.

Ludwig, now a professor of law at the University of Nebraska, described the cause and possible effects of the conference called by U. S. Attorney General Howard McGrath. The problem faced by the conference was: what can be done about the business of racketeers.

"Rackets are felt in the cost of living, as much or more than taxes," Ludwig declared. The profits of the 30 leading corporations of the country, he said, would equal only half of the profits of organized crime during a year.

Research Is Yardstick Of Universities

... Gustafson Says

OMAHA—(AP)—The quality of a university can be measured by its research grants in the opinion of Dr. R. G. Gustafson, chancellor of the University of Nebraska.

Addressing about 200 UN alumni club members Thursday night, the chancellor said the university does "well in that respect."

Dr. Harold C. Lueth, dean of the medical school, and his faculty were praised by Chancellor Gustafson "for working very hard and doing some really top research in addition."

The medical school, he added, was one of the first in the country to receive some of the rare drug, cortisone, for research. The chancellor said that was an example of how highly the school is regarded in the nation.

The work of coaches at the university was praised, but Dr. Gustafson said he was concerned about the athletic situation in the nation as a whole.

"We are developing men at Nebraska—that's the essential thing," he said. "We want men who develop character at the helm and the boys on the field who are learning how to be men."

Core Test Hole Is Drilled Near Limits Of City

Another core drilling test hole was being put down in the outskirts of Lincoln Friday by the Stanolind Oil company.

The drilling crews were working on land behind a service station at 2710 Adams. The land is owned by Harold P. Jacobs, vice president and treasurer of Jacobs Service Inc.

The drilling at that site will go down six to seven hundred feet, with a hole four inches in diameter. No oil lease has been signed covering the land.

The core drilling is being done to provide information on geological formations in this area, according to Stanolind officials.

House, Station Are Burglarized

Two burglaries reported early Friday were under investigation by city police today.

A residence owned by Morris Shuler, 1941 Pershing road, was entered by prowlers Thursday night but according to police nothing was taken. Entrance was gained through a rear door after a glass pane was broken out.

Police said each room in the house was disturbed, including the basement.

A service station at 2706 South was also burglarized Tuesday. Prowlers between $10 and $12 in nickels. According to investigating officers entry was made through an unlocked window.

A drink dispensing machine was opened with a key, officers said. The key, found in the station by the prowlers, was left behind.

Daily Prayer

By REV. J. ALFRED JOHNSON (Pastor, First Evangelical Covenant Church)

God, may our observance of Lent, be acceptable to Thee. Forgive us our sins and enable us to deny ourselves and live in obedience to Thee. May we crucify the pleasures which hinder rather than promote the best living. May we ever be mindful of our Savior's self-denial and unflinching purpose to redeem man by way of the cross. O Holy Spirit, possess hearts and minds for redemptive living, understanding, and good will. Somehow reveal thyself to human souls everywhere, for where there is no vision, people cast off restraints and perish. In Christ's name, we pray, Amen.

Gubitchev Deportation Criticized By Wherry

... Nebraskan Feels Law Should Take Its Course

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary Acheson summoned Russian Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin to the state department today.

The department declined officially to disclose the purpose of the meeting. It was believed Acheson wanted to discuss with the Soviet envoy the case of Valentin A. Gubitchev, convicted Russian spy plotter.

2 To 3 Inch Snow Is Seen For Lincoln

... Will Stay Cold

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Sen. Wherry (R-Nebr.) criticized Secretary of State Acheson today for recommending that Valentin A. Gubitchev, Russian convicted as a spy, be given a suspended sentence and sent from this country.

"Secretary of State Acheson's bungling of the Gubitchev spy case is further evidence of his unfitness to continue as secretary of state," Wherry, GOP senate leader, said in a statement.

"If there was any merit in Russia's claim that Gubitchev was immune from prosecution, Mr. Acheson should have recognized it before the Russian spy was put to trial. But having asserted Gubitchev was subject to prosecution, Mr. Acheson should have let the law take its course."

Gubitchev and Judith Coplon, former employee of the justice department here, were convicted in a New York trial of conspiracy to spy for Russia.

Miss Coplon was given a 15-year prison sentence yesterday. A similar sentence was given Gubitchev but it was suspended on condition that he be deported within two weeks.

Both the state and justice departments recommended that treatment.

"Groundless," Russians Told. LONDON—(AP)—Russian readers are being told that Valentin A. Gubitchev is being sent home because of the "collapse" of his accusation groundlessly brought against the Soviet official.

Thousands Of U.S. Children Said Starving

... In Workers' Camps

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The AFL National Farm Labor union told President Truman today an estimated 100,000 children of jobless American farm workers are starving while big-scale farm operators continue to import workers from Mexico.

NFLU President H. L. Mitchell urged Mr. Truman in a letter to take immediate action to remedy the situation and provide surplus food for needy farm families.

Mitchell said the plight of 100 children found starving at a migratory workers camp near Phoenix, Ariz., is not just an isolated case.

Growers List Mineral Value Dried Alfalfa

... As Stock Feed

Nebraska's producers of dehydrated alfalfa believe a greater portion of their product should reach the state's feed lots.

With that objective in mind, the board of directors of the Nebraska Dehydrators association met Friday at the Cornhusker hotel. The group represents the largest dehydrated alfalfa tonnage producers in the United States.

Also attending the meeting were Director Rufus M. Howard and Harold L. Winfield of the state department of agriculture; C. V. Price, state Resources Division director, and Dr. Garrish M. Severn, University of Nebraska chemistry project director.

Education Program. Dale Carlson, association president from Cozad, said the group hopes to establish an information program "to equally benefit all feeders."

"Sufficient quantities of dehydrated alfalfa haven't been used by beef and swine producers to insure maximum livestock production," he explained. "Until now, about 80 percent of the production was in feed for the poultry industry."

"We want dehydrated alfalfa to be of more value to the state's farmers. Originally, the dehydration process was developed for the protein factor found in alfalfa. Now, the future should lie in the high trace mineral and vitamin content found in the processed crop." It is this content that the association wants farmers to realize and to utilize.

Board members attended from Cozad, Lexington, Burwell, Dakota City, Verdon, West Point and Lincoln.

Labor Wins Its 1st Test

But Another Crucial Vote Set For Monday On Housing Program

LONDON — (AP) — Britain's labor government squeaked past its first major parliamentary test last night. But the uneasy laborites face fresh trouble in another crucial vote Monday.

By a 14-vote margin, 310 to 296, Prime Minister Attlee's socialists beat back a conservative motion timed against the impending nationalization of the iron and steel industry. A defeat would have forced the government to resign only two weeks after it won a second term in a close general election.

Still ahead of the government — whose overall majority in the house of commons was cut yesterday to only six seats — is a vote Monday on another conservation motion. This deplores the government's failure to suggest housing program improvements in the speech it prepared for King George to deliver at parliament's opening last Monday.

A Close Vote.
Like the nationalization measure voted down yesterday, the housing motion proposes an amendment to the king's address. The government has said any such amendment is an issue of confidence. Labor leaders said that if beaten, they would resign and call a new election.

The vote on housing may find it even tougher for the labor government to keep all its members in line. Several labor members of parliament have criticized the government's housing record in the past.

Labor lost one seat of its tiny parliamentary majority yesterday when conservative Florence Horsbrough defeated laborite Rowland W. Cassola for the moss side constituency of Manchester. The election had been delayed 15 days by the death of a previously-nominated conservative candidate.

Wind Damage In City Set At $260,000

By Insurance Officer: "Worst We've Had"

A Lincoln insurance official said Friday that total damage from Tuesday's windstorm would probably be near $200,000 when all reports are in.

He described the damage in Lincoln to glass, roofs, gutters, smokestacks, signs, etc., as the biggest he could remember.

"There is nothing to compare to the damage done," he said, adding that his firm has been deluged with claim calls regarding insured property that was damaged.

Cars Damaged.
Another insurance agency said the number of claims being filed on the storm damage was "the worst we've ever had."

Damage in Lincoln was greater than in Omaha, and the amount in small towns was also fairly large, the insurance firms said.

Auto insurance agencies described their field as a bad one too, with one saying claims for auto damage have been "tremendous."

Many automobiles were damaged when they were blown off the highway because of poor visibility and were hit by other cars that could not see them.

Some complaints were reported from damage to cars from wind blowing dust and sand into the air intake and damaging motors, one agency reported.

Companies replacing plate glass in store windows are still busy—and expected to be for another week—repairing the wind damage.

In residential areas of the city, most broken trees and tree limbs had been cleared from sidewalks, and streets were clear, but many yards were still littered with fallen trees and branches.

State Fair Board Secretary Edwin Schultz said Friday total damage at the fair grounds, worst hit area here, would "probably never be accurately calculated."

He said he expected weakened structures to continue giving trouble, and indicated it would be hard to tell just how much of the damage was caused by the one storm. He said the original estimate of $200,000 damage was as near an accurate estimate as he could make.

Lincoln Family Stranded In Blizzard Finds Farm Refuge

Stories of this week's blizzard are still coming in.

Here's one that might have ended tragically, but didn't.

Lincolnite Edward J. Klein, garage operator at 123 North Twenty-third with his three children, Lee Ann, 18, Carol, 14, and Max, 12, started for Hastings Tuesday morning. At 2 p. m., they were in the full blast of the blizzard. Still 23 miles from their destination, on highway No. 6, and with their motor stalled, visibility zero, and windows ice-coated, they sat it out until after 6 p. m.

During the afternoon, they heard a bell tinkle but were unable to determine its source. With a lull in the storm, they could see a farmhouse nearby. Mr. Klein, due to a knee injury, was on crutches so he and young Carol remained in the car while Lee Ann and Max crawled through barbed wire fence and made their way to the house.

The bell they had heard was the dinner-bell at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Johnson. Here, too, were other "orphans of the storm"—two truckers, one Nebraskan and one from Kansas, and three Hopes, an uncle and two cousins of Bob Hope, from Eugene, Oregon.

Three of the men made their way back to the car and carried Mr. Klein and Carol to the house. The night was spent quite pleasantly by the group, playing cards and consuming an amazing amount of coffee. Mrs. Johnson had baked a cake Tuesday morning. She said "just had a feeling someone was going to drop in."

And to top it all off, Wednesday morning, the Kleins had their car towed to Sutton and subsequently returned to Lincoln.

Wheeler Family Finds Quarters At Huskerville

Mrs. Harriett Wheeler and her five children, whose home at 3100 Baldwin, was left virtually roofless by Tuesday's windstorm, have secured a four-room apartment at Huskerville.

Heavy gales Tuesday stripped the roof from the kitchen and an adjoining storeroom of the three-room dwelling and did considerable damage to the contents. The house is owned by Mrs. Beulah Hoaglin, Mrs. Wheeler's mother.

Concerning their new quarters, Mrs. Wheeler said Friday: "I think we'll like it out there and we'll manage alright." The children are: Betty, 15; Beverly, 13; Merle, 11; Alethea, 8 and Marvin, 3.

Wilkinson Turns Down Denver Trip

City Councilman Rees Wilkinson declined to accept an offer for an expenses-paid week-end in Denver.

Wilkinson didn't think too highly of the acceptance of three councilmen and four other city officials of the offer of three Lincoln banks. The banks said they will pay the way of the officials to go there to study the drive-in banking facilities of Denver.

The three banks—First National, Continental National, and National Bank of Commerce—should like to install similar facilities.

Wilkinson said he would have made the trip if the city were paying the expenses. He added that he would "prefer" to pay his own expenses for such a trip.

Parents went to Illinois and moved to Nebraska shortly after. He had farmed near Wilcox for more than 40 years. Upon his retirement, he came to Lincoln and had been living with a son, Harvey, 3147 O street.

Survivors include another son, Ed, Holdrege, and 18 grandchildren.

Opposition To Highway Program Said 'Illogical'

ALLIANCE, Neb.—(AP)—Ben J. Sallows, new business consultant for the state highway department, has termed "illogical" opposition by oil and truck interests to Governor Val Peterson's highway program.

Sallows, former Alliance newspaper publisher, made the statement to the Kiwanis club Tuesday.

He said it was difficult to understand opposition to the gasoline tax by the two industries, since the oil and auto industries have been built up as a direct result of highway construction.

"With better roads their business will increase much more, so what logic have they to fight new revenue bills?" he asked.

Rent Control Extension Till June 30 Voted

... By The Senate

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The question of extending rent controls another year was still up in the air today.

The senate late yesterday voted Housing Expediter Tighe Woods $1,400,000 to administer rent ceilings until June 30, when the present rent law expires.

At the same time, they voted him $2,600,000 and told him to use it in preparation for closing up shop on that date.

Between now and then, they said, congress can reach a decision on whether to continue controls.

Nebraska's republican senators were on opposite sides in the balloting. Sen. Wherry voted against the bill and Sen. Butler was announced as paired for passage.

They simply cut off the power for one or two hours.

Family Of Four Needs Minimum Salary Of $50

By GEORGE GALLUP

(Director, Am. Institute of Public Opinion) PRINCETON, N. J.—"What is the smallest amount of money a family of four (husband, wife and two children) needs each week to get along on in this community?"

When this question was put to men and women representing a properly balanced cross-section of the nation in a survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion, they set the minimum amount at an average of $50 a week.

In farm areas and small towns the average ran a bit lower, around $40 a week.

Many people would consider it exceedingly difficult, with prices as they are today, for a family of four to try to live on $50 a week in a big city. It should be remembered that the survey asked for the smallest amount needed.

Nationwide studies of family income show that many city families with children do get along on less than $50 a week. The average factory wage for the U. S. today is approximately $53.

Times Have Changed. Not so many years ago $30 a week was considered the minimum. In 1937 this was the average sum named by persons questioned by the institute in a sampling survey similar to that reported today.

Three years ago, in 1947, $43 was the amount.

Here is the trend shown in the surveys:

Year	Median Average
1937	$30 a week
1947	$43 a week
1948	$50 a week
Today	$50 a week

A sizable number of people (17 per cent) in today's survey believe that a family of four can get along with less than $30 a week. On the other hand about one person in every ten questioned (9 per cent) said it would take $75 and upwards for such a family to live.

Here is the range of figures named in the survey:

Family of Four Needs	Percentage
Less than $30 per week	17%
$30 to $40	36%
$40 to $50	25%
$50 to $60	15%
$60 to $75	7%
$75 to $99	2%
$100 and over	2%
Don't Know	8%

Median average $50

Relation to City Size. The following table gives the average amounts (medians) named according to size of community:

City Size	Per Wk.
Under 10,000 persons	$40
10,000 to 100,000	$50
Over 100,000 persons	$50

This week, Henry Mead joins the informal society of Word Wrestlers, Uninc., with his "Columns and Columnists" in The Seward Independent. And discovers what Mister Mead some of the rest of us have known for—lo, these many writing years.

Sets A Speed Editor Mead, it will be remembered, took over when Billy Smith paused after a half-century-plus-two of highly successful and strictly top-drawer newspapering. Some sample mouthfuls from the first helping of Mead-pie: "Sooner or later, in the life of every newspaperman . . . natural restraints and inhibitions lulled or stifled, he announces he will write a column . . . It must be vanity. No man in the weekly business writes for money . . .

"I have seen what has happened to my friends who write columns . . . They let 'em get 'em . . . They searched light-hearted coffee conversation. . . eavesdropped on the innocent chatter of children . . . weren't able to laugh at a funny story because they were so busy writing down the last one . . . Instead of the column being a spontaneous outlet for a muse . . . instead of fun, it was WORK!"

Many of Nebraska's dailies and weeklies, we note, feature the "yesteryear" department—what was happening to you and the folks next door twenty-five, thirty, fifty years ago. Let's take a brief glimpse, then, back through the years . . .

West Point Republican (75 years ago): "Six barrels of prairie chickens have been the average shipment per day over the SC&PR from West Point and Winsor. At this rate, prairie chickens will soon be scarce in this section of Nebraska." (60 years ago) "The disastrous prairie fire which occurred in Burt county last week is believed to have been started by hunters for prairie chickens. The grass was set on fire so as to drive out the chickens . . . Two prairie schooners passed through the city Wednesday on their way to the Sioux reservation."

Fairbury Gazette (60 years ago): "Corn ran up in price to 15 or 16 cents a bushel . . . and many farmers sold, but the price weakened before all got in. Those who held on got a still higher price later . . . The Rock Island cut-off from Jansen to Lincoln was started this spring. It was at one time believed it would go nearly straight north through Crete and Wilber and then to Lincoln."

Norfolk Daily News (50 years ago): "One of Dallas Brunson's bus horses dropped dead while being driven along main street this morning."

The Pawnee Republican wonders about the power of the Saturday afternoon matinee as compared to the following morning's Sunday school teachings. From its "Round The Square" tidbits comes this bit of child-reasoning: "When one little fellow in town was asked to name the two strongest men, he answered, 'God and Tom Mix. If they want to, they can make you do anything!'"

Presidential Birthdays

A contemporary recalls that March gave us four presidents—James Madison, Andrew Jackson, John Tyler, and Grover Cleveland. It was also generous in the field of music for it marks the birthday anniversaries of three of the world's most distinguished composers—Johann Strauss, Franz Joseph Haydn, and Johann Sebastian Bach. Actually November was the favorite month of the largest number of presidential birthdays—five. Of the 32 men who have occupied the White House, three were born in February, three in January, four in April, four in October. The remaining birthdays were scattered among the rest of the months of the year.

undevoted, sparsely settled regions. Nevada, with 100,000 people at the last census, has two seats in the United States senate. New York state, with 14,000,000, has two seats in the senate. Alaska, with an estimated population of 100,000, would have two seats in the senate. It isn't fair, New York's spokesmen in congress say, with some heat. There is nothing representative about it, they add. When it comes to matters requiring a two-thirds vote, a handful of sparsely settled states could choke the voice of the densely populated, older regions of America. All of this is a bit tardy. We have been doing business fairly successfully the other way a long time.

The stock argument furnishes a fairly accurate measure of the thinking and stature of the present membership of the United States senate. If that tortured thinking has valid force today, Nebraska never could have become a state. When Nebraska was admitted to the union in 1867, the estimated population was 20,000. And the day that it completed requirements for statehood, it had two votes in the senate, an equal voice with commonwealths whose roots were imbedded in early colonization. Today, Nebraska, with less than a seventh of the population of New York state, has two votes in the senate—the same as New York, Pennsylvania, California, Texas, or any of the other larger states. If the obstacle to Alaskan statehood is valid, and one of the chief opponents to it is Senator Hugh Butler of Nebraska, then Mr. Butler never would have realized his ambition to be a member of the United States senate.

This issue was kicked around for months in the constitutional convention and out of it came the compromise on congressional representation familiar to every schoolboy or schoolgirl. From a military standpoint, the day has come to strengthen the ties with Alaska, as a step towards strengthening Alaskan defenses. Actually, an ancient whipping post has been hauled out to deny Alaska statehood. We want her coal, her oil, her forests, her gold, her magnificent fisheries, her fur, her precious minerals—we want her wealth—and it would appear that powerful interests most of all want the opportunity to exploit that wealth.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note: This is the second of Drew Pearson's columns on how the U. S. A. can win the peace).

WASHINGTON—Fred Osborn, former U. S. representative on the U. N. atomic energy commission, recently predicted that it might take 100 years of prodigious effort by the American people to work out a permanent peace.

In view of the fact that the world fought for a solid century during the Hundred Years' war and in the 17th century went through the spasms of the Thirty Years' war, Osborn's estimate may not be too pessimistic.

But, being a perennial optimist, I have scaled the time down to 20-30 years. I agree with Osborn, however, that it will require the same kind of hard work our forefathers put in when they built this country to win the peace against a country which is determined the free world must disappear.

As stated yesterday, my own ideas on winning the peace are only "groupings." They are put forward after talking with a great many people, including Sumner Welles and Sen. Brien McMahon, who has done more solid thinking about the Russian problem than anyone along Pennsylvania avenue.

At any rate here is my program:

1. Bring about greater unity among the American people. We cannot fight a prolonged war of nerves entailing great sacrifices, unless we have just as much national unity as during the recent war. Greater unity can be achieved by:

A—Bringing outstanding republicans into positions of leadership inside the administration.

B—Keeping the American people better informed. Instead of abrupt handouts from the white house or hasty statements made at presidential press conferences, Mr. Truman should go on the air every month with a frank, personal report to the people.

2. Good, maneuver and manipulate Moscow into calling an international conference — on atomic energy or anything else — even if we know in advance it will fail. We shouldn't get up any false hopes, because Russia isn't going to let any conferences succeed—unless she writes the ticket. And we should attend any conference, no matter who calls it, because we cannot leave unturned any stone that might bring peace.

But it would be extremely healthy if we could force Russia into calling a conference. We should remind the world that we have called conference after conference. Time after time we have gone to Moscow, while Russia has taken almost no initiative for peace. But the world has forgotten this fact—over and over again. We have been called "warmongers" so often that the world is beginning to believe it. And we have been either lazy or bumbling or both in showing that just the opposite is true.

3. Hold the next session of the United Nations assembly in Moscow. This is Sen. Brien McMahon's idea, and an excellent one. Most of the Russian people have a distorted notion that the U. N. is not a free democratic assembly, that Soviet delegates get no breaks, that the cards are stacked in favor of imperialism.

If the United Nations went to Moscow, especially for a debate on controlling atomic energy, the Russian people would get some conception of the U. N.'s truly democratic forum, where any nation can speak its piece.

4. If Moscow will not call an international conference, then we have the excuse of holding a whole series of conferences under the North Atlantic pact. As Senator McMahon once again has pointed out, the North Atlantic pact provides not merely for military assistance, but an Atlantic council to handle political problems.

We have neglected this. We have concentrated on the military phases of the pact, ignoring the Atlantic council which could mobilize the free world in order to create, as McMahon says, "a climate for peace."

5. But most important of all we must reach Moscow's Achilles' heel. This heel is friendship with the Russian people.

Most of us forget that the real reason for the Iron Curtain is to protect the weakest point in the Russian armor—her people.

This is why the first American troops to reach the river Elbe after V-E day were not permitted (Continued on Page Nine.)

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE

Here are two stories, both true. The first is as mean as a thumb in the eye; the second, as heartening as a sunrise.

The mean one is about a Philadelphia industrialist who, on one of his frequent business trips to New York, made the acquaintance of a young lady whose good looks were only surpassed by her amiability. Despite the fact that he was married, the tycoon began to see a lot of the girl, and it wasn't long before he had set her up in a Madison Avenue apartment and was forking over $300 a week to cover expenses.

After a couple of cozy and clandestine years, the girl said to him one night, "If something ever happens to you, Daddy, I'll be left without a penny. Don't you think you ought to do something about securing my future?"

"You're absolutely right," said the industrialist. "Give me a few days to work it out."

The next time he called on the girl, he handed her half a million dollars worth of three per cent railroad bonds.

"These will yield you an income of fifteen thousand a year," he said. "Every three months as the coupons come due, clip them and I'll cash them in for you, and you can use the money for expenses. You'll notice I haven't put your name on the bonds. Well, that's because the transfer of so large a sum would come to the attention of the board of directors and cause a lot of talk. However, if anything happens to me, you can write your name in and sell the whole lot at any brokerage house."

The girl thanked him, and the pair continued seeing each other until the tycoon keeled over in his Philadelphia office a couple of years later with an attack of coronary thrombosis. When his lady friend read the obituary in the paper, she wrote her name on the bonds and took them to a brokerage house.

The broker examined the certificates. "You're a little late, miss," he said. "This railroad went out of existence almost 30 years ago."

The girl picked up the worthless paper and walked out. "The dirty double-crosser," she muttered. "All he gave me was the same three hundred a week."

And now let me take the thumb out of your eye and show you the sunrise.

Some years ago, an Iowa garage man went bankrupt and decided to make a fresh start in another state. He scraped together a little cash, loaded his wife and kids into a beat-up Chevrolet and headed for California. Unfortunately, the jalopy broke down outside of Tucson and the cost of getting it fixed cleaned him out.

To get a little eating money, he set out to canvas the garages in town for a job, but quickly found the supply of local labor was greater than the demand—Tucson, because of its climate, was filled with tuberculosis victims, a good many of whom were mechanics.

At the last garage on his list, he repeated his hard-luck story and got the standard turnaround, but as he started to walk out he was stopped by one of the mechanics.

"If you need a job as bad as you say," he said, "you can have mine. I'm pretty sure I can fix it with the boss."

"Don't you need the job yourself?" said the man from Iowa.

"I've saved enough to last me for six months," said the mechanic, "and the doctor who's treating me for TB says that's all I figure to live."

OFF THE RECORD

By ED REED

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: For a long time now, the United Nations have been trying to get together on a peace program and to date, they have failed, all because of one fly in the ointment. The communists of Russia and the UNA will never make an agreement, believe me, as long as the communists have a hand in it. Have they ever agreed to anything that has come before the United Nations? No, they have not, for the simple reason that they have their own pet program and anything that does not come up to their standard is wrong. Mr. Wherry wants President Truman to write letters to Stalin. It would not make any difference if the president wrote one letter or a thousand. None of them would ever be right, so why waste the time? Speaking of A-bombs and hydrogen bombs—I say for Uncle Sam to go ahead and make plenty of bombs and get ready. Not being ready when trouble comes has cost the people of America hundreds of billions of dollars. So for once, let's be ready.

Whose Socialism?

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Up to June 30, 1949, the federal government had insured or guaranteed about fifteen million dollars in privately made mortgage loans to enable owners to sell, contractors to build for rental purposes, and purchasers to acquire homes in Lincoln. The opponents of public housing have never complained about this. Not one syllable have I heard against taxpayers' money being used to support this brand of private operations. What's the difference in principle, I mean? One can only infer that a new and most peculiar doctrine has appeared. It might be formulated as follows: Governmental aid which helps me and my crowd is bulky for the encouragement of free enterprise. The same source of aid intended to assist others (and most assuredly those of low income) is rank socialism fraught with grave danger to all we hold dear in our tradition of freedom. If the communists can't capitalize on this kind of duplicity and self-deception, they are dumber than I think they are.

Mr. Jones, Meet The Master
By PETER MARSHALL

CHAPTER X.
The Rock That Moved.

There are not many cities in which you may suddenly hear the crowing of a cock.

That is one sound that is not likely to arouse the guests in any of Washington's downtown hotels. One will never hear it in Times Square, at Broad and Market, at Five Points, at Woodward and Michigan, or along Michigan boulevard.

Yet even to this day you may hear it in Jerusalem, for Jerusalem is different.

God has a hundred ways of plucking a man's sleeve. He nudges some, others he taps on the shoulder. To some it comes in music, to some in a picture, a story or a chance meeting on the street.

All these are used by God Who keeps watch over His own.

Yes... to some it is music... or a song. To others it is a picture or the face of a friend but to Simon Peter it was the crowing of a cock.

He had seen the last flickering torch disappear round the turn of the path that wound down hill. Only once in a while could the light of the procession be seen through the trees—like giant fireflies.

The murmur of voices died away, the crackling of twigs, and the rustling of dislodged stones through the grass.

There swept over Peter the realization that his Master had at last been captured and was marching away to die.

The icy fear that gripped his heart was a startling contrast to the flaming courage with which he drew his short sword a few minutes before, for this was a different Peter.

He realized that he had blundered, and that he had been rebuked. Disappointed and puzzled, he could not understand the calm submission with which Christ permitted them to bind His hands and march Him off, as a butcher would lead an animal to the slaughter.

And now, they brought the Lord from Annas to Caiaphas, and the soldiers and the temple guards mingled with the servants in the courtyard.

Because the night was cold, they had kindled a fire in the brazier, and Peter joined himself to the group, and stretching out his hands warmed himself at their fire.

Coarse laughter greeted every joke and they discussed the thing such people talk about: The coming cock fight in Jerusalem, the new dancing girl in the court of Herod, the prowess of the garrison's drivers, the gambling losses of their friends, the latest news from Rome.

Peter was not paying much attention to their conversation until one of the soldiers nudged him and said:

"Thou art also of them."

And Peter said, for the second time: "Man, I am not."

Peter, you must remember... surely... it must be that you are afraid. Your brave heart must have turned to water. Surely you cannot have forgotten...

Remember the night He came walking on the water, and you tried it, and were walking, like the Master, until your courage left you... your faith gave way?

Simon, has your courage left you again?

After an hour had passed, there joined the group a soldier who had come out of the palace. As he greeted his friends in the circle, his eye fell on Peter. He scrutinized him very carefully, and Peter, feeling the examination of the newcomer, looked round at the soldier asked: "Did not I see thee in the garden with Him?"

One of his friends joined in: "Certainly—he's one of the Galileans."

"Just listen to his accent."

And the soldier stubbornly went on: "I am sure I saw him in the garden, for my kinsman, Malchus, was wounded by one of them—who drew a sword, and if I am not mistaken—it was this fellow here."

Then Peter, beginning to curse and to swear, said: "I know not the man."

He used language he had not used for years. It was vile... Even the soldiers were shocked. They all looked at him in amazement.

They did not appear to notice the shuffling of feet, as soldiers led Christ from Caiaphas to Pilate. Perhaps they did not make much noise. They were tired, worn with argument and talk, so they were very quiet.

Immediately, Peter remembered the Lord's prophecy:

"Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny Me thrice."

Like a wave there swept over him the realization of what he had done. All of a sudden he remembered what Jesus had said, and with tears streaming down his face, he turned away from the fire.

Through a mist of tears he saw ahead of him the stairway that led to Pilate's palace... and by a terrible Providence, it was just at that moment that Christ was being led up the stairs to appear before Pilate.

The Lord had heard! The Lord had heard every hot searing word... The Lord had heard the blistering denial... the foul, fisherman's oaths... He—He had heard it all!

Christ paused on the stair, and looked down over the rail—looked right into the very soul of Peter. The eyes of the two met... at that awful moment.

The world seemed to stand still, as for that terrible moment, Peter looked at the One he denied. We shall never know what passed between them. Christ seemed to say again:

"But I have prayed for thee, Simon. Satan hath desired to have thee. But I have prayed for thee."

His tears now overflowed and ran down his cheeks—hot and scalding tears they were—and with great sobs shaking his strong frame, Peter spun around and rushed out to have the cool morning air fan his burning cheeks.

Something died within the heart of Peter that night. Something was killed. That's why his heart was broken.

In fact, the Simon in him was killed, the old arrogant boasting bravado of Simon, the cocksure confidence of the strong fisherman, the impetuous stubbornness, the impulsive thoughtlessness of Simon... these all died in that moment.

Simon had ceased to be. Peter was being born.

Nothing more is heard of Peter for two days.

Christ has been crucified. But we must follow Peter further. It is not fair to leave him a sinner, a swearing traitor, a fugitive from the heart of love. This apprentice apostle is still in the making. And he is running true to form.

His Lord had prayed that somehow he should not fail. That prayer must be—would be answered—but how? Never again would his Master trust him.

There came the strange story gasped out by breathless women who had come running from the omb. Then a race with John and the discovery of the empty grave. Then the strange tale of the two disciples who came back from Emmaus. Something had happened. Life could never be the same again. The dead had come to life. The Christ who has been crucified was alive, but still Simon could only nurse his deep and bitter shame.

There came that night when, having gone back to their boats and their nets, they had worked hard and in comparative silence. Now as they came back, discouraged and sad, they saw Someone standing on the beach in the early light of morning. The sea was calm—calm as a millpond—and the light, early morning mist still clung to the surface of the water.

"It is the Lord," said John, and that was enough for Simon. Here was the opportunity for which he had longed—to tell the Lord that he loved Him—to show how well he knew Him.

Without a moment's hesitation, he jumped overboard and waded ashore.

And then comes the loveliest record of God dealing with a penitent sinner...

Its tenderness and understanding come stealing into our own hearts like the perfume of crushed flowers.

For every denial, Jesus asked a pledge of love.

Three times the question: "Simon... lovest thou Me?"

Three times the answer—and then the restoration, "Feed my lambs... Feed my sheep... Feed my sheep."

"And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow Me."

When next we see Simon, he is Simon no more—but Peter—the Rock.

We see him fearless and eloquent, fire in his eyes, and his voice vibrant with conviction, melodious with good news.

His own will has gone; his Master's will has taken its place. Peter stands up and preaches the gospel of his crucified and risen Lord.

Is this Simon preaching a sermon? No, this is Peter.

The sinner-saint has become a witness, a pillar of strength to the brethren and apostle to the ages.

The denials that you have made were made by Simon. Yet he was restored; so may you be restored. Christ changed Simon into Peter, the sinner into the saint.

He can change your life, if you are willing!

—Roderick J. Martin, Grand Island, yesterday filed suit in District court for an injunction against Dr. Earle G. Johnson and John K. McKinney, president and secretary-treasurer respectively, of the Nebraska Mid-States Reclamation district.

The suit, entirely separate from Martin's earlier petition, for an accounting of Mid-State funds, asks the court to enjoin the two officers from spending district funds to pay attorneys for legal services "rendered to the directors and officers of the district in their individual capacity."

Martin's petition charges that the board of directors hired the law firm of Neighbors and Danielson of Scottsbluff to represent the district and its directors and officials in the original suit and added the charge "that this is an attempt to obligate the district to compensate an attorney for services rendered to each director in his individual capacity. All to the great damage of the district and to the citizens and taxpayers of the district."

Bin Contracts To Beatrice, Omaha Firms

... For Grain Storage

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A contract for 1,000 aluminum grain storage bins with a total capacity of 3,250,000 bushels has been awarded the Beatrice Steel Tank company of Beatrice, Neb., the government has announced.

A similar contract for 1,000 bins of 3,250,000 bushel capacity went to the Eaton Metal Products company of Omaha.

All in all, the agricultural department announced the award of contracts for 20,700 steel, aluminum and wooden bins as part of its program to handle surplus grain under the multi-billion dollar price support program.

Commercial Firms Protest.

Spokesmen for the commercial storage industry have appealed to congress to halt further entry of the government into the storage business.

Already the owner of storage space for about 375,000 bushels, the department said it was buying more bins because the private industry had not assured it of sufficient space to handle large quantities of surplus grains being taken over by the department under price support programs.

Yesterday's awards were for bins with a total capacity of 8,130,000 bushels. Prices to be paid were said to average 22.5 cents a bushel, bringing the total cost of the new bins to slightly more than $10,000,000.

92-Pound Woman Has Baby A Day —For Three Days

JONESVILLE, La. —(INS)—A 36-year-old, 92-pound fisherman's wife gave birth to a baby a day for three days in Jonesville and the doctor who delivered the triplets said he believes the case is unparalleled in medical history.

Dr. N. G. Nasif said Mrs. Mable Hardie gave birth to a five-pound boy at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, a six-pound girl at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning and a seven-pound girl at 12:15 a. m. yesterday.

Mrs. Hardie, married to fisherman Lester Hardie since 1933, has seven other children, none of them multiple births.

The doctor, who has been delivering babies since 1914, said the first birth was normal but induced labor was used for the other two.

Home Girl

By Carol Holliston

Chapter 25.

Don came back to the house in a blinding snowstorm, the worst of a bad winter. When Mary opened the door he looked like a snowman after walking three or four blocks from the subway. But she knew him instantly and drew him eagerly into the house.

"Thank goodness you've come back. I was afraid you never would. Let me take your coat. Anne is in the kitchen pretending to knit, but she's only staring out the window. Just go in and fling your arms about her."

"I wouldn't dare do that. I wouldn't even have dared to come, only—"

"I know. You couldn't stay away. For the love of Mike, why didn't you come back the next week instead of running out west with all those cowboys? We've had troubles. The twins ain't here any more. The house is like a morgue. I don't know who feels it worst. We don't really know for sure how they are, the little angels."

He patted her arm. "That's what I came to tell you. That's why I dared come. I saw them in Chicago. They're very well. I stayed until Pat and Mike could be sent out, so they have the dogs again."

"Thank heaven!" Tears started down her plump cheeks. "Go tell her. Go give her a big hug."

She threw her apron over her head as Don walked quietly past into the kitchen. Anne was standing by a window looking out at the thick snow. She spoke dully without turning her head.

"Was it mail, Mary?"

"Just a very unimportant male."

He didn't know what possessed him to make a silly pun at such a time. She turned her head slowly and stared at him. The light was very poor in the kitchen. She spoke softly as if doubting her eyes.

"So you came back."

"If you will let me come back."

There was a moment's hesitation; then she flung herself into his arms, sobbing. He held her gently, stroking her beautiful soft hair but not kissing her as if not wanting to frighten her out of his arms. He spoke the soft nothings with which men have tried to dry the tears of the women they love since the world began. For a little while it seemed as if nothing could calm her wild crying. Her whole body trembled in his embrace. Mary peeped in, then tiptoed away. Don's soft caresses had their way finally. The sobs lessened and then ceased. Anne raised her head and accepted his handkerchief. She dried her eyes, drew a deep breath and found her voice.

"Oh Don, I'm so glad to see you."

"Your words are music to my ears."

She actually laughed. "You haven't changed a bit, and I'm so glad. Take off your coat and tell me all about yourself."

"I came to see you — if I could."

"Poor Don. Did I ever say you couldn't? I know Father did, but it was all so silly. And he has never forgiven himself."

Has he forgiven?

"There never was anything to forgive. It was all so silly of both of you. Why will man go romantic and crazy as soon as women are out of the room? I tried to reach you the next evening."

"I know. Mother wrote me when I finally let her know where I was."

"Your mother was very kind, Don."

"Why didn't you let her really be kind? She gets so few chances to show what a wonderful person she really is. Usually no one comes to her for anything but a check. She has taken an extraordinary liking to you and your father without ever having seen either of you."

"Thank you, Don. You build up your friends, don't you?"

He chuckled. "I have never succeeded in building up any of them for my mother before. I assure you. If must be that I have found unique friends."

"Who ordered you out of their house. Unique is right, Don. But we can't clutter up Mary's kitchen any more. I see her smiling out there. Come in, Mary. I thought you had quite forgotten how to smile. Tell Don how glad we are to see him."

"Sure I told him right off. But some things you don't have to put into words. It will put life into your poor father to see the glowin' face of you now. You two go cheer up your father. He wouldn't eat breakfast or lunch, but I guarantee he'll eat a dinner tonight that will put him on his feet again."

"Is Roger sick?" cried Don. "I'm so sorry. Is there anything I can do?"

"You've done it already," said Mary, beaming. "You've come home. Both of you go tell him. If he could have seen what I saw a minute ago—"

"Mary!"

The old woman kissed Anne gently. "Here, take your knitting along, young lady. From now on you'll have no need to be pretending to knit at all—or looking up Montana in the atlas."

"Mary, I'm surprised at you."

"Did he tell you about the twins yet?"

Anne's face lighted up. "You saw them? Oh, Don, I'm so glad. You must have come through Chicago. I didn't realize. How are they?"

"They have their dogs again."

Mary couldn't keep still in her excitement. "They're all together again. He had the dogs sent out. Faith, why didn't you bring them all with you and make this poor old house heaven again?"

He smiled at her. "I wish I could have brought them along. But I wasn't sure I was coming here myself."

She shook them out of the kitchen and then ran upstairs laughing. Roger's door was closed but they burst right in. He was sitting in his over-size chair staring out into the thick blinding snow much as Anne had been doing. He was wearing a heavy robe over pajamas and warm slippers. He spoke heavily without turning his head. His thick white hair was tousled.

"Is anything the matter, Anne?"

"Yes, I brought you a visitor."

"Don't try to be funny, Anne. Who would come to this dead old house?"

"Only someone you ordered out, of course. Life is like that."

U.S. Must Put Housekeeping In Order, Rukeyser Warns

... Writer Addresses Local Dinner Club

A nationally-known economist and financial writer Thursday night warned it's time the United States "put its housekeeping in order and get down to knitting."

The place of security

There is a realm where hope is no longer precarious. It is the realm of unwavering understanding—spiritual understanding. It is the realm of Truth.

How may we find it? Through knowing (understanding) the same truth which Jesus knew, and which he promised would "make us free." The Christian Science textbook plainly shows the way. To any sincere student this great book steadily unlocks the treasures of truth in the Bible and shows how they are practical.

SCIENCE and HEALTH with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy

Furthermore, its statements can be put to the test. It proves, by healing the sick, that the same truth Jesus knew is here. It is available today to meet humanity's need through the effective prayer of understanding.

You are cordially invited to visit a Christian Science Reading Room where this book and Mrs. Eddy's other writings, together with the Bible and all authorized Christian Science literature, may be read, borrowed or purchased.

'Inventory' Of Population Begins Here April 1

By HOMER FINE.
The inventory of the nation's greatest resource—the people—is about to begin. On April 1, 87 census takers will set out to take the seventeenth decennial census in Lincoln.

Census takers, who sometimes travel by dog sled, airplane, boat or bus but will do most of their work here by automobile, as well as on foot, expect to find the population of the United States over the 150 million mark. This will mean visiting an average of five million persons each day during the 30-day period.

To count the people of Lancaster county, 110 enumerators, each supplied with credentials to be shown on demand, have been appointed. They will make up six crews, each headed by a trained crew leader. In addition to the 87 urban enumerators, 23 census takers will cover the rural areas of the county.

Answers Confidential.
The report you make to the census taker who questions you is strictly confidential, District Supervisor Charles Bocken points out. It is unlawful for the census bureau to disclose any facts from census reports about names, identity or income for purposes of taxation, regulation or investigation.

Since 1870 there have been laws guarding the privacy of census information. Any census employee convicted of revealing confidential facts about any individual or firm is subject to a fine of $1,000, or two years in jail, or both.

Every fifth person over 14 years of age will be asked his income during 1949. This will include salaries or wages, interest and dividends, rents and income from own businesses, professions and farms. If your income from salary or wages was more than $10,000, the bureau said, you can answer "10,000 or over," but you still must answer the other questions.

Housing Questions.
Housing questions were first authorized by congress and included in the 1940 census questionnaire. The "average" American home at that time was found to be a one-family, detached structure of four or five rooms, built in 1915, according to a booklet published by the bureau of the census in 1943. It was of wood construction and contained a radio, electric lights, running water, a bathroom and a gas or electric range.

The median age of the "average" American home was 25 years in 1940. Now—10 years later—the census takers will again ask questions of renters and home-owners alike. Questions will cover the age, value, type and condition of the dwelling unit, the rent, number of rooms and whether there is a kitchen sink and a radio.

This year a new question will be asked: Do you have a television set?

An agricultural census is to be taken this year as well. Farmers will receive their agricultural questionnaires by mail and are expected to have them completed by the time the census taker arrives.

But it works both ways—an individual who refuses to answer a census taker's questions may be fined $100, or jailed for 60 days, or both, upon conviction. If he knowingly gives false answers to the census-taker's inquiries, an individual may be fined up to $500 or given a year in prison upon conviction, or both.

Data Used Locally.
The detailed information collected by the army of census takers is used to a large extent to provide community leaders, municipal officials and chambers of commerce with material to attract new industries and businesses to their communities.

Preparation for meeting the future needs for all types of hospitals, schools, recreational facilities and old-age pensions is based to mingle with soldiers from the Red army. This is also why there were so many Red army desertions in Vienna; why Russian troops returning to their villages are transferred away from their families—if they talk too glowingly about the outside world.

All this indicates that friendship with the Russian people is the real way to win the peace.

What we need to remember is that, if we can influence the Russian people, we need not build great armament. Men, not H-bombs, make war. And if we can control the men who have to fight Russia's wars, the chances are slim of their starting war.

This job of influencing the Russian people obviously is not easy. For the 14 men in the politburo have gone to unusual lengths to insulate the other 180,000,000 residents of Russia. These fourteen don't want any loyalty defection from the Kremlin. They don't want to worry about public opinion as Mr. Truman or Prime Minister Attlee have to worry. They want no interference with their power to make war overnight. That is why our job is not easy.

But neither is war easy. And if peace is worth winning, it is worth working for. Furthermore, when the American people set out to accomplish something, they usually succeed.

We should not forget, however, this is a long, back-breaking job, requiring great sacrifice, great unity, great patience. I think we can accomplish it—and in less than the 100 years fixed by Frederick Osborn.

Takes 70 Volumes
In the end, the full record of facts collected during a census-taking, after nearly three years of computing and cross-relating, are printed in 70 volumes containing some 50,000 pages. The highlights of the census, as well as other government agencies, are summarized in a 1,000-page volume published annually by the census bureau.

It is the Statistical Abstract of the United States—for the casual seeker after facts. Information is released, however, a single fact at a time as soon as it can be computed, for the use of business, industry, educators and public officials.

For persons who are reluctant to answer the census taker's questions, it may be comforting to know that each individual answer may be only a 150-millionth of a single fact.

90-Foot Oil Recovery In Initial Test At New Sidney Well

Dakota Sand Topped At 4,687 Feet

No Gas Saturation Revealed In Drill

SIDNEY, Neb.—(AP)—Ninety feet of oil was recovered in the initial drill stem test at the Ruehman No. 1 well yesterday. The first bench of the Dakota sand was topped at 4,687 feet and a nine foot core was taken. It revealed oil saturation but the test showed no gas.

The 90-foot recovery is about the same as the first test of the Cruise No. 1, which later developed into a commercial gas producer from the third Dakota bench.

More Tests Slated.

Another drill stem test was to be taken at the Ruehman today. Ohio Oil company spokesmen at the well said the sand is porous and a better recovery is anticipated if additional saturation is encountered.

The well will be carried to the third bench for a comprehensive oil and gas test. It is located about one-half mile west and south of the Cruise No. 1, and it is running about 50 feet lower structurally.

Steve is No. 2 was drilling in sandy shale at 4,255 feet yesterday.

Hopkins No. 1 still is shut in awaiting installation of tanks. It was pumped at ten barrels per hour in test earlier this week. At Ohio's next wildcat location, McLernon No. 1, drilling probably will start the first of the week. Ohio's Casper office reported. A new and larger rig is being erected, indicating that Ohio is prepared to make a deep test, if necessary, on this new structure.

Bromfield: Efficiency Big Ag Need

Author Addresses Omaha P-F-L Meeting

OMAHA — (AP) — Author-Farmer Louis Bromfield believes that "one of the great errors of agricultural economy has been to think of agricultural production in terms of total production rather than in terms of production per acre."

The Lucas, O., man told the national Pasture-Forage-Livestock conference Thursday that the big agricultural need today is more efficient farming to boost output per acre and cut the per-bushel cost of production.

Acreage Production Stressed.
"One of the great errors of agricultural economy has been to think of agricultural production in terms of total production rather than in terms of production per acre," he said.

"During the war we achieved a record of total food production but never in any country at any time has food been produced so expensively—so expensively indeed that even with high prices it has been necessary to create subsidies (paid in the end by the consumer out of his pocket in the form of taxes) in order to get sufficient production. This is so because the cost of production per acre or per bushel was so high."

Bromfield's address was presented at the final session of the second annual one-day national Pasture-Forage-Livestock conference. The event drew some 1,400 persons. It was sponsored by the agricultural committee of the Omaha chamber of commerce.

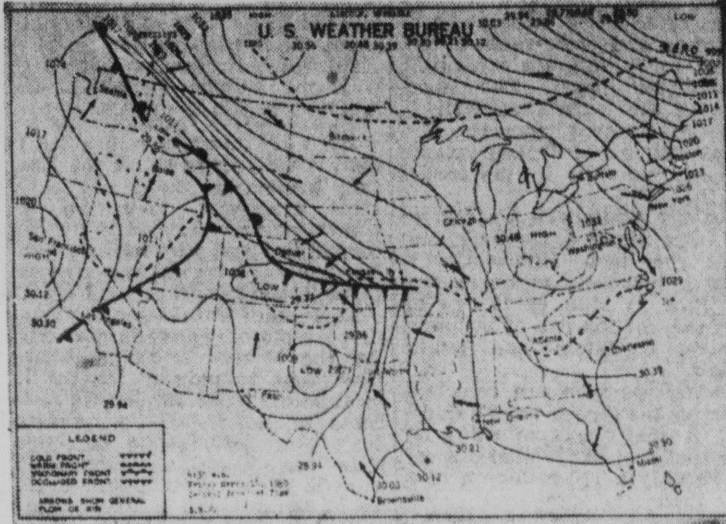

Bromfield deplored the wasting of agricultural resources.

"In the corn belt areas which once produced as virgin soil without fertilizer yields of 120 bushels per acre averages have declined within the past few years to as low as 37 and 44 bushels per acre," he said.

The question of declining production per acre and increasing cost of production per bushel was the root of "the ruin of many farmers who sought to expand their production in the period of high prices during and after the first World war," Bromfield declared.

"Horizontal Expansion."
"Their error lay in expanding horizontally rather than vertically."

Destruction and declining production of agricultural land "lies at the root of a creeping inflation that has been in progress since the Civil war and which in the long run will be more devastating to the health, living standards, incomes and prosperity of the nation than any temporary war time or artificial boom inflation. WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—The relative positions of high and low pressure have changed little, prolonging the cloudy weather prevailing to the northeast of the Rocky mountain trough of low pressure, with light snow since early Thursday in the northern Rockies and the north Pacific states and some rain in Pacific coast sections. The area of light snow included also South Dakota and extreme northern Nebraska, and local snow in northern New York and northern New England. Temperatures early Friday morning were near zero to 15 below in northern Minnesota, near zero in North Dakota, 8 to 20 above in South Dakota, and 15 to 22 in Nebraska. Moderately cold weather prevailed in the northeast and frost occurred along the Atlantic coast from North Carolina to the north border of Florida.

95-Year-Old Among Group Marooned In Car 14 Hours

... Was More Worried In '88 Blizzard

OMAHA — (AP) — Being marooned in a snowstorm is old stuff to a 95-year-old woman, who has lived in Nebraska all of her life.

"It's better than sitting on the seat of a lumber wagon," said Mrs. August Schneider of Pilger, who sat 14 hours in a car on a snow-drifted highway Tuesday.

Tuesday, the day after her 95th birthday, Mrs. Schneider said she started for Pilger with three members of her family. Their car, got stuck about two miles from the town.

"They piled blankets all over me," she said. "I could hardly move."

Stiff From Sitting
Some 14 hours later, a car got through and took those in the stranded car to a nearby inn. Mrs. Schneider was stiff from sitting.

are approaching a subsidized agriculture."

Farm land and forests are the most vital of this country's natural resources, Bromfield said.

Referring to Denmark, Holland, Belgium and France, the author said: "If we had in this country as efficient land use as in these nations the cost of food and of other agricultural commodities could be reduced as much as 30 per cent or more and the farmer would be making 20 per cent more profit than he is making today. It is largely a matter of production per acre."

Lincoln Man To Be Reimbursed For Cycad Loss

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Someone forgot to return a cycad from Chicago's 1933 Century of Progress fair and it may cost Uncle Sam $125.

The house has agreed to pay this much to Walter E. Parks of Lincoln, Neb. The senate has yet to look into the matter.

Parks loaned a fossilized plant specimen of geologic age, known as a cycad, to the department of interior for display at the fair. When the department's exhibit was removed after the fair closed, Mr. Parks' fossilized plant couldn't be found. Parks wasn't interested in accepting a similar specimen.

Rep. Francis Case (R-SD) introduced the bill authorizing payment of $125 to Parks to settle his claims against the government.

The interior department favors payment. It said in a report to a house committee:

"We have no means of estimating the value of the lost specimen, as fossil cycad specimens are rare and have no fixed commercial value. We believe, however, that $125 would not be an excessive amount to pay."

Pays To Know Where Friends 'Hide' Key

AURORA, Neb. — Knowing where your friends keep their house keys sometimes comes in mighty handy, two Lincoln women discovered during the raging blizzard earlier this week.

Mrs. John Kees, 1600 A street, and Mrs. Fred Greene, 1421 G street, both of Lincoln, while driving from Lincoln to Kearney Tuesday to attend the state DAR convention, found it rough going between York and Aurora.

After arriving in Aurora they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Edgerton, only to find the Aurora couple gone and the house locked. Mrs. Kees recalled where the Edgertons hide their door key and the two women entered the house and made themselves at home.

Meanwhile, the Edgertons were stranded in Lincoln while en route home from a trip to Omaha. They called to visit with Mr. Kees, and discovered he had just had a telephone call from Mrs. Kees, stranded at the Edgertons.

Then a call to the Edgerton home by the absentia hosts informed their guests where to find the family lair.

Nebraska Mother Entry Deadline Is Set March 18

One week remains for submission of nominations for "Nebraska State Mother for 1950," Mrs. R. W. Hill, Hebron, chairman of the state mothers' committee, announced.

Deadline for the competition is March 18. Mrs. Hill explained that to be eligible for consideration, "Mothers must have contributed materially to the good of their communities, and reared children who do so also. Both character and achievements of mother and children are the basis of selection."

Nomination blanks may be secured from either Mrs. Hill or other committee members. "Members of the state mothers' committee are representative of the largest women's organization in the state, including three religious groups. They weigh the qualifications of nominees most conscientiously," she said.

GARDEN GLANCES WITH THE MOON

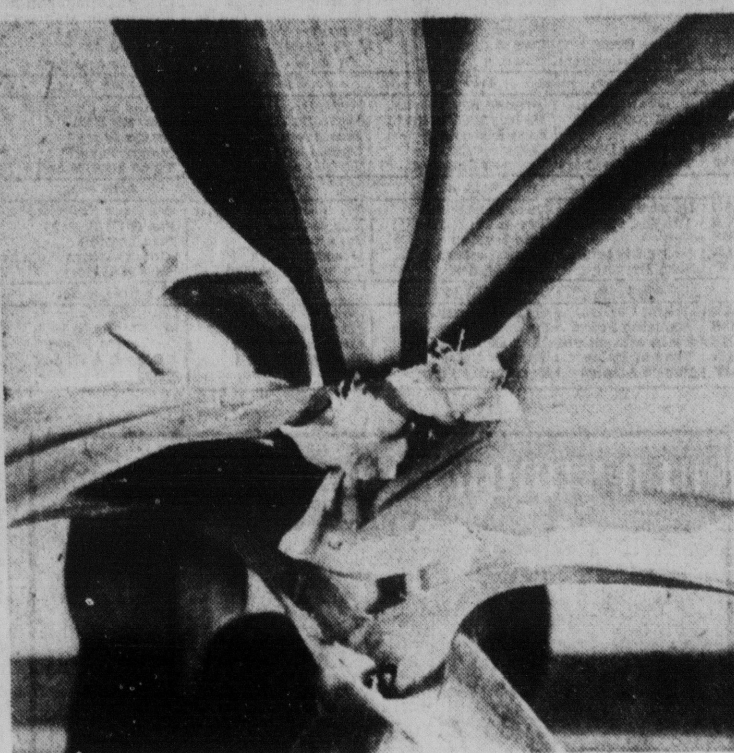

Slayer of the winter, art thou here again?
O welcome, thou that bring'st the summer night!
The bitter wind makes not the victory vain.
Nor will we mock thee for thy faint blue sky.
—"MARCH"...William Morris.

By CECILE PARRISH SWINGLE.

HERE I AM, dear people! I was up bright and early yesterday morning to prune our grape vines while the moon was in the third quarter and a fruitful sign.

It entered the fiery and barren sign, Sagittarius, yesterday morning and tonight at 8:38, fourth quarter begins. Tomorrow at 2:09, the moon will enter the earthy and semi-fruitful sign, Capricorn. If you have procrastinated with your pruning, better do it tomorrow or Monday before 7:53 p. m., as the moon will enter the barren sign, Aquarius, at this time. Pruning your grape vines is a necessary chore that must be done early each year before the sap rises, to insure a good harvest.

ONE of the most interesting plants we have in our window garden is commonly called "Moses-in-the-bullrushes." Nor do I know at the moment another or better name for it. They grow outside in Florida, some tell me, but I can't recall ever seeing them and certainly not in bloom, but I'm sure they are tropical plants. The strap-like leaves are shiny, dark green, and reddish-purple underneath, an inch and a quarter at their widest and the longest leaves measure nine inches. Our entire plant is now almost a foot high and it will be two years old in May. So you see, they grow slowly.

THE first basket appeared last November when the plant was about 18 months old and then one morning to my utter amazement, I found a dainty, pearl-like three-petaled flower just three-eighths of an inch across. It lasted the day and then another appeared and so on through the weeks—and the weeks ran into months. Three months at least. The tiny seed pods matured in the basket and we thought it was through for the season. But one day two new baskets were definitely in evidence and very soon a tiny moses was blooming in each one. Sometimes, as in the illustration, twins will appear but the next day there will be only one bloom again. And never have there been triplets.

Mrs. C. M. Pritchett, 5714 Huntington, gave me our plant in October, 1948. It was one of several shoots that grew that spring from a plant she has had perhaps ten years. She potted all the shoots separately, setting them out later in their pots in the garden for the summer. Since then Mrs. Pritchett

Use Of Water, Flood Control Big Jap Needs

Mortlock Tells Local Conservation Chapter

Harry C. Mortlock cited flood control and multiple use of water as the two greatest needs of Japan at a meeting Thursday night of the Lincoln chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America at the Y.M.C.A.

Mortlock went to Japan in April, 1947, with the agricultural department of the military government in that country. He was formerly assistant regional soil conservation officer.

Flood damage, he said, is the biggest drain on government funds of Japan. At present, he stated, the country has no measure of protection against flood.

He pointed out that the country usually has a high rainfall every year so consequently the Japanese people have never conceived the idea of a water shortage. The result has been, he continued, a "sloppy job" of developing power reservoirs and water usage. No water is ever taken from underground, he stated, so if a dry year comes along, there is a shortage of water above the ground.

In agriculture, he said, it is hoped that the country will be within 10 per cent self-supporting in food within a year. The mountainous country, he concluded, makes it necessary to use the system of growing multiple crops on the same land area.

THE BEST COOKS IN OUR CLUB

Here is Mrs. Hohnstein's recipe for chicken salad, for which she seems to be particularly famous in her community:

- 1 cup cubed, cooked chicken.
- 1 cup diced celery.
- 1 teaspoon of salt.
- 3 hard-boiled eggs, quartered.
- 1/2 cup sweet pickles, chopped.
- Mayonnaise.

Combine chicken, celery, salt, eggs and pickles. Moisten with mayonnaise. Serve in lettuce leaves and garnish with additional egg slices and olives.

We hear that Mrs. Louis Borgman's Lemon Icebox Dessert, also is labeled "irresistibly delicious"—Here is how she does it:

- Beat 3 eggs.
- Add 1/2 cup of sugar.
- 1/2 teaspoon of salt.
- Juice of 1 and 1/2 lemons.
- Cook mixture in double boiler and let cool. Then add 1 cup of cream, whipped.
- Crumble 1/2 lb. of vanilla wafers, and place 1/2 of the amount in the bottom of a pan.
- Pour mixture in oblong pan, and put remaining crumb mix on the top.
- Chill for a few hours. Cut in squares and garnish with a maraschino cherry.

And here is a mighty tasty cake recipe or which we duly thank Mrs. Mark Anderson. It is for a Cocoa Sour Cream cake—this is what you do:

- Mix together:
- 1 1/2 cups of cake flour (sifted).
- 1 cup of sugar.
- 1 rounded tablespoon of cocoa.
- 1 teaspoon of soda.
- 1 dash of salt.
- 1 dash of cinnamon.

Make hole in the center and add:

- 1 cup of thick sour cream.
- 2 eggs, unbeaten.
- 1 teaspoon of vanilla.

Beat thoroughly for 2 minutes or more. Bake at 350 degrees for thirty-five minutes in 8x2x2 pan.

Since we are of the opinion that there is no talent, no vocation or avocation that surpasses that of the homemaker, it is with considerable pleasure we begin this weekly feature in The Star. "The Best Cooks in Our Club," we think, in addition to presenting you with some choice recipes will give you an idea how various groups of women in the county—not your next door neighbor—not the woman in the next block—but women beyond the boundary lines of Lincoln delve into the art of homemaking.

And cooking is one of the arts. So, when you find thirteen women, as we did when we met the members of the Emerald Homemakers' club last Wednesday, who are vitally interested in homemaking you find thirteen mighty good cooks.

The members of the club had met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Snyder to do a bit of study and research in meat cookery, with Mrs. L. J. Hohnstein and Mrs. Henry Berg showing how it was done.

We have given you three very excellent recipes, and now we want to tell you something about the women of the Emerald Homemakers' club—all busy women, but never too busy to lend a hand to any philanthropic or community project.

During the World War II, for example, the Emerald Homemakers club sent cookies each week to the Canteen at the Burlington station, and frequently made gifts of apples

MRS. HENRY BERG (right) removes beef roast from the oven while Mrs. Hohnstein watches, and waits to pop in a pan of bacon-wrapped meat patties.

THE EMERALD HOMEMAKERS study the art of meat cookery.

to the Canteen for the service men.

Organized in 1934, the club held its first meeting at the home of Mrs. August Meyer, and of that original group one charter member, Mrs. L. J. Hohnstein, remains active. Since that time the group has kept pace with extension lessons and has participated in civic affairs.

The club now has a membership of thirteen women, Mrs. Mark Anderson, Mrs. Henry Berg, Mrs. Louis Borgman, the current president, Mrs. Erle Deinert, who is serving as secretary-treasurer; Miss Ella Crow, Mrs. LaVern Holsten, Mrs. L. J. Hohnstein, Mrs. Elmer Kossack, Mrs. Lorenzo Lee, Mrs. Alfred Meyer, vice-president of the organization; Mrs. Robert Pickel, Mrs. Glen Thomas and Mrs. Ralph Snyder.

Mrs. Kossack and Mrs. Louis Borgman take an active part in infantile paralysis work—Mrs. Kossack being a member of the executive board of the Lancaster county polio foundation, and Mrs. Borgman a member of the state council. Mrs. Borgman, incidentally, also is a member of the county extension board. For the past three years this group has sponsored a "polio drive" in their own community, and this year, cooperating with neighboring extension clubs and the P.T.A., they staged an auction and dance which netted

$900 for the polio fund. The club contributes to the Red Cross, the cancer fund; sends baskets of food to the shut-ins and those who are ill; has sent many boxes of clothing to overseas families from whom the members have received grateful letters; CARE packages, as well as food and clothing to families in the community when disaster has struck.

All of the Emerald Homemakers' club members said that they liked extension work—first, because it makes them better homemakers—and also because it gives them an opportunity to work together in the interest of community life.

Plans May Convention

At a meeting of the executive board of the Nebraska League of Women Voters, held Friday at the Y.W.C.A., plans were completed for the state convention of the organization to be held in Lincoln at the Hotel Cornhusker, May 11 and 12.

Named general chairman for the convention was Mrs. Boyd Raynor who will be assisted by Mrs. S. W. Epstone as program chairman. Program features for the luncheon and dinner on May 11, and the luncheon on May 12, will be panel discussions on the governor's road program and on the Missouri basin development, and a talk by a member of the state legislative council on the work of the council.

Several workshop sessions will also be held during the convention which will be preceded by a meeting of the board at 7:30 o'clock the evening of May 10.

Mrs. Edward C. Fisher, vice president of the state league who presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Fritz Craig, told the eleven board members of progress made by a committee of the Nebraska league which is working on publicity to be distributed preceding the spring elections. This publicity will give unbiased and impartial information on the referendum on the gas tax. Chairman of the committee is Mrs. Benjamin Boyce.

A. A. U. W. Scholarships

Members of the A.A.U.W. this month are celebrating the fifth anniversary of the organization's program of international grants for study in the United States for women students living in war devastated countries.

Mrs. William Paul Brands, chairman of the fellowship and scholarship committee of the Lincoln branch of A.A.U.W. has announced that the local group is contributing $290.00 toward the scholarship grants, which at present are assisting 35 women students representing 14 countries. The program has aided over 155 students during the past five years.

In addition to supporting the national grants, the Lincoln branch also annually sponsors a local scholarship of $100.00 for a woman student on the University of Nebraska campus.

Collectors' ITEMS —Of News

THERE ISN'T TOO MUCH going on this week-end that we haven't already mentioned — But we do have a few news additions of interest— Just learned, for instance, that Mr. and Mrs. Don Stewart will arrive home next Wednesday after a stay of several weeks in California—

AND RETURNING NOT TOO long after the Stewarts will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rogers who have been spending some time in their brand new house at Santa Monica— We hear that the house is about ten blocks from the ocean, and is most attractive.

HEARD, TOO, THAT James Peter Kreschier (Jeep — for short), of Omaha is spending several days as the guest of his grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. M. Thomson—

ALL SETTLED in their home in South Sioux City are Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Smith (Beverly Battery) and their small son, Stephen — Mr. Smith, of course, has hung bright and shining "attorney - at - law" shingle, and is ready for business.

WE WONDER — WHY the revival of the ukelele on the Nebraska campus — Hear that almost every house along fraternity row has a half-dozen or more embryo Ukelele Ikes—

THE BASSINET CROWD was all excited on Wednesday, March 8, over the arrival at Bryan Memorial hospital of Miss Marcia Lee Krohn— daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Krohn of Ulysses. Marcia Lee's mother is the former Mary Margaret Bumstead which makes Dr. and Mrs. Carl Bumstead the baby's maternal grandparents. Her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Krohn of Columbus.

WELL, WELL AND WELL — There has been a change of personnel in one branch of the Gridiron club—The twelve men who have been doing the honors as Greeters for the past fourteen years, have decided to retire, and have turned their organization, lock, stock and barrel, over to another group. However, our twelve good men and true have no intention of relinquishing the fun they always have had, so they have a new organization—the Ex-Greeters.

This group includes E. C. Ames, Alfred DuTeau, T. B. Strain, Bert Reed, William Putney, Dr. J. E. M. Thomson, Howard Wilson, E. B. Drake, Joe Seacrest, Guy Chambers, Howard Freeman and Charles T. Stuart, who has served as permanent chairman.

Since the newly organized group of Greeters were loath to launch their ship on the sea of inexperience, they urged Mr. Stuart to stay with them, at least temporarily.

So—the newly organized official Greeters will include Morgan Batten, permanent chairman; Frank E. Roehl, treasurer; Jim Swanson, secretary; Wheaton Battey, Robert Dobson, Robert Lau, Robert Stephens, John M. Campbell and—Mr. Stuart.

LINCOLN FRIENDS OF THE Curry Carrolls—former Lincoln residents and now of Kansas City, will be interested to learn that their daughter, Miss Courtney Carroll is being initiated into Kappa Alpha Theta sorority at the University of Kansas on Saturday.

ON OUR STRICTLY SOCIAL calendar is the dinner this evening for which Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Glandt will be host and hostess at the University club

TOMORROW— AT THE ART EXHIBIT

HOURS: 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
HOSTESSES: MORNING, Mrs. Walton Ferris, Mrs. Harold Dillman.
AFTERNOON, Mrs. C. E. Booth, Mrs. Henry Cox.

TOMORROW'S ARTIST MARTIN FRIEDMAN

Hanging in Gallery B, during the current exhibit is "Eventide," an oil by Martin Friedman. Friedman was born in Budapest in 1896 and came to this country with his family at the age of nine, and has since lived in New York City. He obtained his art education at night school at the National Academy of Design, and has supported himself by doing catalogue illustrations. His easel paintings show no trace of his commercial art background, for glowing and luminous colors are remarkable, evidently achieved by underpainting in light colors and using transparent oil varnish glazes. This treatment helps to establish a romantic or lyrical mood, as seen in this painting.

—The group will spend the after-dinner hours informally at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glandt.

HEARD SOMEWHERE OR other that F. Pace Woods, jr., a senior at Yale university, plans to spend his spring holiday in Florida.

WHILE ON THE TOPIC of what the college crowd is doing we'll pass on the information that Miss Barbara Henninger, daughter of Brig. General and Mrs. Guy Henninger, participated in the musical style revue, "American Debs Visit Paris," at Christian college, Columbia, Mo., this week.

Gurley Is Free
Of Bonded Debt
After Long Fight

GURLEY, Neb. — (AP) — For the first time in its history, this little western Nebraska town is not saddled with bonded debt.

This week the village board paid off $18,000 in outstanding bonds and issued a call for the remaining $2,000. Board members said the $2,000 already is on deposit with the county treasurer.

Gurley's financial troubles date back many years. At one time village finances were in such condition that the FHA would not consider a home loan within the city limits. Many houses were sold for taxes and moved to nearby farms.

About 10 years ago, when crops began to flourish again, city officials began laying a long range program for retiring the outstanding bonds and warrants. It has been a slow, laborious task—one that has taken the co-operation of all citizens. Not one debt has been defaulted.

Before long now, village officials expect to have a "bond burning" ceremony—one that all citizens can have a part in.

Snow-Sand Coat Glued To Roads In Hall County

GRAND ISLAND (AP)—Packed snow left over from Tuesday's storm is the nearest thing to reinforced concrete that L. R. Rudd, Hall county engineer, has ever seen.

About 10 to 15 per cent of the county's roads were still blocked Thursday, Rudd said, but they should be open by Friday night.

The high winds that accompanied the storm mixed sand, gravel, corn stalks, weeds and branches and the whole conglomeration froze to rocklike consistency.

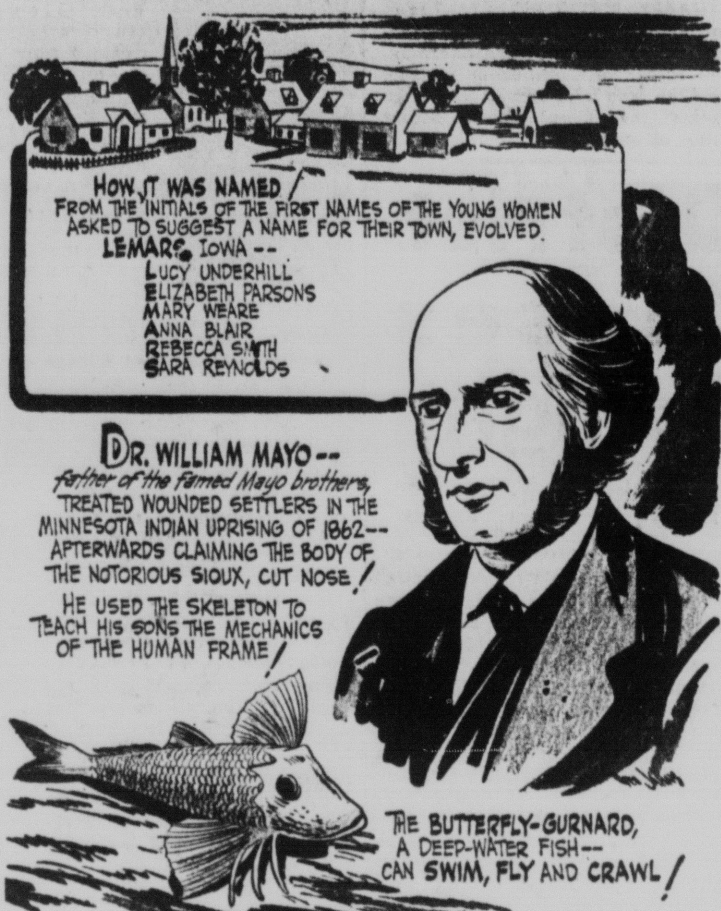

Removing the stuff is one of the toughest jobs the Hall county highway department has tackled in the 23 years that Rudd has been with the department, he said.

Rudd jokingly told a reporter he thought he would use some of the snow next summer for bridge supports.

Falls City Upsets Links 28 To 27

First Round Fairbury Class A District Meet

(Special to The Star)
FAIRBURY, Neb.—Lincoln high's basketball suits were laid to rest in the mothballs Friday, following Falls City's 28-27 upset over the Links in the first round of the Class A district tournament at Fairbury Thursday night.

The loss wrote a bitter finish to one of the worst seasons in the school's history, with the ledger showing a total of eight wins and nine deficits.

1950 tournament action was cut short for the Links by an inspired quintet of Tigers, who played their darkhorse role to perfection.

FIVE PLAY FULL TIME

Regulars Bill Dougherty, Frank Fullon, Pat Ferguson, Charley Hunley and Wayne Nisomantube turned in iron man performances, all five lads seeing the full 32 minutes of action.

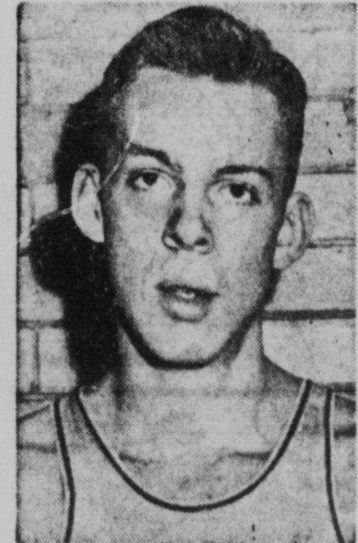

All Falls City must do now is down the Fairbury Jeffs in Friday night's district final.

Northeast Meets Beatrice Tonight

The Northeast Rockets, defending class A state basketball champions, will meet Beatrice tonight at Fairbury. The game will be broadcast at 8:30 on station KLMs.

test. Friday night's victors will meet for the district title Saturday evening, with both teams landing berths in the Lincoln meet, set for next week.

STRONG BID

Lyle Weyand's crew made a desperate attempt for victory in the final period, but the stout hearted Tigers squelched the bid. Dean Sloan narrowed Falls City's margin to 26-23, following a four-minute lapse of scoring in the final canto. The margin was reduced to 26-25 a minute later when Joe Gordon swiped the ball and went in for a setup.

Tiger Ferguson made it 27-25, with a minute and a half left in the game, sinking Falls City's first counter of the fourth period. The winning bucket was tossed in a few seconds later by Chuck Hunley.

KNEE HITS SPREE

Lincoln's Larry Kneel, whose seven points in the third quarter kept the Links in the ball game, hit the final tally of the evening in the closing seconds.

The lead was exchanged five times in the initial period and twice in the second. Ferguson put the Tigers out in front, 15-13, with two minutes gone in the second stanza and the Richardson county crew was there to stay.

Lincoln trailed, 17-13, at the halfway mark and 26-21 at the end of the third period.

The Links outscored the Tigers 12-10 from the field, but the margin of victory was provided at the gratis line. Falls City converted an eight of 16 attempts, while the Links could only swish three of 11 tries.

Other than Kneel and Sloan, Lincoln could provide little in the way of offense. Kneel was the top scorer of the evening, gaining 10 points, while Sloan collected six.

Hunley and Fullon sparked the Falls City win with nine tallies apiece. Ferguson hit for six.

Husker Blocks Impress

Schreiner's Running Tops Outdoor Action; Clark Passes To TD

By NORRIS ANDERSON.

THERE was evidence Thursday that the Nebraska Cornhuskers' heavy early stress on fundamentals was paying dividends.

The Huskers' blocking, in particular, hit an early spring high as Mentor Bill Glassford wheeled his wards through a 90-minute outdoor scrimmage.

Behind crackling blocking, Soph Fullback Bob Schreiner of Hastings sped half the length of the field in the longest run of the day.

Schreiner, 192-pound ex-Nebraska state prep sprint champ, shook off several tacklers himself during his jaunt, but it was sharp blocking that carried him all the way.

Another touchdown was the result of a 35-yard pass from Halfback Ron Clark to Fullback Nick Adduci.

Clark, Frosh Bobby Reynolds and Bill Mueller were constant gainers.

Clark, noted for his passing ability during his prep career, only threw once last fall.

Glassford's first-call lineup included Frank Simon and Ted Connor, ends; Don Boll and Bob Muller, tackles; Walt Spellman and Don Strashem, guards; Verl Scott, center; Fran Nagle, quarterback; Clark and Mueller, halfbacks, and Adduci, fullback.

SECOND TEAM

A second outfit featured Maxey Vestal and Dick Regier, ends; Charley Toogood and Dick Goeglein, tackles; Art Bauer and Bill Maxe, guards; Ray Rifenback, center; Nagle, quarterback; Reynolds and Schreiner, fullback.

Schreiner was shaken up midway in the drill and retired to the dressing room.

Viewmen To Class B Finals

...PLAY PAWNEE CITY TONIGHT

(Special to The Star)

AUBURN, Neb.—Lincoln College View will meet Pawnee City here Friday night at 8 for a berth in the state Class B cage championships at Lincoln next week.

The Viewmen reached the finals Thursday night with a 39-38 squeak past Plattsmouth and Pawnee City blasted Bellevue, 58-20, in the other semi win.

CV's win over the Blue Devils was revenge for an earlier 35-19 licking delivered to them in Eastern Nebraska Seven play.

Both teams gave hot and cold performances. Plattsmouth failed to hit a field goal for the first 12 minutes but almost salvaged victory with a 15-point spree in the last quarter.

College View, after a 16-point second quarter, was blanked for 12½ minutes from the field goal department during the second half.

STEWART, MALY LEAD. Taking an 8-4 first period advantage, Coach Emory Priefert's crew rushed to a 24-17 halftime margin. A meager two points in the third chapter, however, allowed the Cass county quint to whittle the lead to 26-23, but the final quarter was not enough time to overcome the CV gap.

Forward Jim Stewart's third quarter gift toss and five more in the fourth plus a two-point proved Southsider game savers. He finished with 15 points to lead the winners. Bill Maly contributed 12 counters.

Sparklers for Plattsmouth were Forwards Stan Cole and Bob McCormick with 11 points each. The Blue Devil scoring ace, Merle Dasher, could get only five.

Both teams potted 12 field goals but CV hit 15 free throws to 14 for Plattsmouth.

Friday's foe, Pawnee City, sports an undefeated season record.

Geier has competed in 68 dual meets working the side horse, flying rings, parallel bars, tumbling, long horse and trampoline.

He has placed in every meet in every event in which he entered, winning numerous first places. He was named captain of the 1949-50 team. Geier is the only senior on the team.

Coach Jake Geier believes he will have a stronger team next fall. Al Dunavan, Beatrice, the team's leading point maker will return along with Art Hillman, Deshler; Bob Yarwood, Omaha; Norman Anderson, Grand Island; Paul Hughes, Randolph and Cliff Currin, Omaha.

The Cornhuskers downed the University of Iowa and Colorado State in dual meets, placing third in the Northwest Gymnastics meet at Minneapolis and second in the All-College at Fort Collins, Colo.

District Closes Tonight

Scottsbluff, N.P. Join Benson, Boys Town

(By the Associated Press)

FOUR of the eight teams which will meet in the 1950 Nebraska high school class A basketball tournament at Lincoln March 15-18 were determined in regional tournaments Thursday night.

Omaha Benson and Boys Town were semi-final winners in the Omaha regional, North Platte and Scottsbluff won state tourney berths by virtue of semi-final victories at McCook.

The remainder of the class A field will be determined Friday night at the Grand Island and Fairbury regionals.

At Fairbury, Falls City will meet the host school in the curtain raiser. Defending state champion Lincoln Northeast will tangle with Beatrice in the other semi-final.

SEWARD FALLS. All semi-finalists win tickets to the Lincoln tourney in class A. Thursday night's play also saw the first of last year's state champions fall in its bid for the 1950 crown.

Seward, hard-hit by graduations after copping the 1949 class B crown, was a 49-45 victim of the host team in the second round of the York regional tourney.

Two top contenders for the class B title—Omaha Holy Name and Minden, furthered their bids with easy victories.

Holy Name routed Schuyler in the first round of the Fremont regional, 54-28. Minden advanced to the finals of the Holdrege regional with a 54-40 decision over Lexington.

Most of the pertinent pre-Lincoln play will be completed in the state Friday night.

Class B finals are booked at Auburn, Central City, Holdrege, O'Neill, Scottsbluff, Wayne and York.

Fremont is the only B final slated Saturday night.

Class C playoff Friday night will be at Columbus, Oakland and Plainview, with Class D playoff finals at Broken Bow, Friend, Springfield, Hastings and Pierce.

On tap for Saturday are Class C playoff at McCook, Benson and a Class D playoff at Holdrege. The Fairbury and Grand Island class A finals also are scheduled.

Benson had the safest touch in Class A play Thursday night.

St. Joseph's, after a slow start, piled up a 28-19 halftime lead and never was in danger thereafter. Bill Mann potted 21 points for Benson.

Boys Town held a slim lead throughout, then withstood a late Tech rally to top the section.

Kearney, in dropping its game to North Platte, 34-28, was out in front in the fourth quarter. Kearney was out in front, 25-21, at halftime and trailed only two points in the final.

But Kearney was able to garner only four points in the last stanza while North Platte collected 12.

Four 'Cats' Play Final Against NU

... Manhattan Saturday

By Fred Harris

(Special to The Star)

MANHATTAN, Kas.—Four young men who have helped Kansas State become a basketball power the last three seasons will perform for the last time in Nichols gymnasium at Manhattan, Saturday night when Nebraska and the Wildcats meet in a game with a championship flavor.

They are Rick Harman, Clarence Brannum, Lloyd Krone and Al Langton—four of the greatest stars ever to play at Kansas State. Each boy has completed four years for Coach Jack Gardner's Wildcats. Harman and Brannum have been all-Big Seven selections and this season Rick, best rebounder in the school's history, was selected on Sporting News' first all-American five.

Harman also established an all-time high for individual scorers at Kansas State. Already, he has made 815 points and will have the opportunity to add to that total in the Nebraska game Saturday. The former high mark at K-State was set by Frank Groves in 1937. The record of Groves, three times an all-Big Seven center, was 631 points accumulated over a three-year period. However, if you subtract the points Harman made in his freshman year, he still has a three-year total of 716 points.

BETTER FEAT
Harman did not better Groves' feat of averaging 11.7 points per game for all games and 15.4 for conference play. Groves played in 54 games during his three year term and Harman has completed in 91 contests. Harman holds the K-State rebound record for one game. He grabbed 17 of them off the boards at Norman, Oklahoma, a year ago. This season, he has nabbed 134 shots off the boards, including 77 in conference play. Groves and Harman differed in that Frank played nearly 40 minutes of each game while Rick shared playing time under Jack Gardner's system of using at least 12 players in each game.

Brannum, a fiery competitor, tallied 450 points in 67 games throughout a four-year career. He took part in only six games during the 1944-45 season. Big "C" snared 133 rebounds this season, 74 of them in conference play. When he joined K-State as a freshman, Brannum was used strictly for his defensive skill, rebounding and post play. He didn't become a skilled shooter until he joined the squad for its last six games last season. Brannum was the trigger of the Cats fast-break offense each season he played.

Lloyd Krone and Al Langton were players who didn't make the headlines as often as Harman and Brannum, but they were invaluable cogs in the Cats' defense. Krone could be depended upon for baskets when they were most needed and was an outstanding rebounder despite his 6-1 height.

Langton "the man who can turn on a dime" was never a regular starter but was the Cats' best hand and floor man. His aggressiveness was employed when the Cats went into a pressing defense or attempted to stall the ball.

Each of the Wildcats stars played a different flavor. Harman hopes to alter the chemical field and may play A.U. basketball. Brannum is looking for a professional basketball and golf career. Krone will enter business and Langton plans to coach.

W. Kentucky Hopes High

... For NIT, Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Western Kentucky plans to win the first game in the National Invitation basketball tournament Saturday, and don't be surprised if the Hilltoppers stick around for the finish.

Coach Ed Diddle is back with a better team than last year's quarter-finalists. That club bowed to Bradley.

The Hilltoppers, Bradley and Kentucky rate as the top three favorites in the 12-team field.

All three operate under the same style—a fast break and heavy firing at the basket.

LACK EXPERIENCE

Bradley and Western both have more experience than Kentucky's sophomore club. Where Western may rate a slight edge is in height.

Diddle can send out five men averaging six-foot or five—topped by six-eight Bob Layov.

Western (24-5) rates a heavy favorite over Niagara (20-6) in Saturday afternoon's opener. The Hilltoppers also have to get by St. John's (22-4), fourth-seeded, to reach the semi-finals and may be at Bradley again.

Bradley (27-3) finished first in the final Associated Press poll of the country's top teams.

Unseeded San Francisco (19-6), defending champion, plays CCNY (17-5) in the other afternoon contest. Then Saturday night LaSalle (20-3) meets Arizona (24-4) and Long Island (20-4) takes on Syracuse (22-4).

Bradley, Kentucky (25-4), Duquesne (17-4) and St. John's—seeded in that order—draw first-round byes. They play their first games in the quarter-finals Monday and Tuesday.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

CUBS IN SHAPE

AVAILON, Calif. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs departed Saturday from this island training base for another year, and Manager Frankie Frisch had this farewell message:

"I don't believe any ball club could be in better condition than we are at this point in the spring training program. The Cubs Saturday will meet the White Sox in Pasadena, Calif., in their first exhibition game."

KEEL SHINES

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—An American league batting champion George Keel batted out a pair of triples Thursday night in the spring training game between the "Lions" in Detroit's second intrasquad game.

The "Lion" squad really teed off on rookie pitcher Ernie Fink in the sixth inning, tallying three runs.

Lead Split At Miami Beach

... Palmer, Harper Tied

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—(AP)—A pair of soft-spoken southerners, both veterans of many campaigns on the links, shared the lead Friday as the Miami Beach $10,000 invitational golf tournament went into the second round.

Chunky Johnny Palmer, professional of Reddin, N. C., who earlier this week won the La Gorge country club pro-amateur, and Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., each carded three under par 69's Thursday as the first major Miami Beach tournament in 20 years got under way.

The southern twosome held a one stroke lead over a bulky field of 220 of the nation's leading amateurs and professionals who played over two courses—Bayshore and Normandy Isle—for the opening round.
